Celebrate Girl Scouts and Faith during Girl Scout Week

March 8-14, 2026

Girl Scout Week, the week of Girl Scouts' birthday on March 12, is a great time to celebrate with faith communities to share about Girl Scouts and its benefits, thank faith partners for their support, and give girls the opportunity to be recognized in their place of worship.

Celebrations with faith communities can include worship services, events, and community service projects. Partnering with faith communities during Girl Scout Week exposes more people to the benefits of Girl Scouts, strengthens relationships with faith leaders, shows girls how to connect the principles of Girl Scouting to their faith, and builds the Movement's diversity.
